

International Implantology Days

From Periodontology to Implantology

6 - 8 March 2014

Tuttlingen | Germany

Preface

Dear Colleagues,

The periodontally compromised denture presents us with a variety of different treatment options in terms of preservation, prognosis, therapy, as well as long term maintenance. In cases of tooth loss the treatment concept becomes increasingly complex.

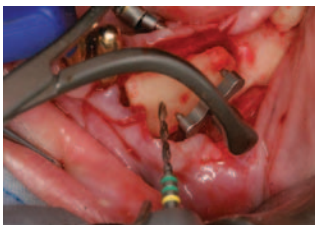

Implantology enriches us with numerous possibilities such as multiple unit abutments, or single tooth replacement. However, hard tissue reconstructions are usually unavoidable. This course is based on periodontal concepts and represents current periodontal techniques. Furthermore the interfaces towards Implantology are depicted including complex solutions on hard tissue reconstructions. A current overview on the relevant navigation systems forms the conclusion of this interdisciplinary course.

Become a part of this synoptic course – from Perio to Implantology!

We look forward to meeting you in Tuttlingen.

Yours,

Stefan Schnitzer, Dr. med. dent. &
Andres Stricker, Dr. med., Dr. med. dent.
